Australian Gold Nugget/ Kangaroo

First produced in 1986, the Australian gold Nugget / Kangaroo coin is one of the most popular coins created by the Perth Mint in Western Australia, being the most diverse of any nation's bullion coinage - minted in eight different sizes from 1/20th of an ounce all the way up to 1-kilogram.

Its initial denominations were 1 ounce, 1/2, 1/4, 1/10 and 1/20. Later other sizes were added: 2 oz, 10 oz in 1991, and since 2010 1kg. The fineness is 999,9/1000.

In the first three years, the reverse showed a gold nugget with the text "The Australian Nugget". From 1989 on it was substituted with an Australian kangaroo, whereby the kangaroo type changed annually until 2006. Its designer is Stuart Devlin.

The obverse (front) side depicts Elisabeth II and until 2007 the year of minting, designed by Ian Rank-Broadley. Since 2008, the text on the coin was changed to "Australian Kangaroo" and the year of minting appears on the other side.

The 1 ounce coin has a face value of 100 Australian Dollars.

In 2011 the Perth Mint produced a one ton gold coin, setting a new world record for the largest gold coin (the previous record was held by the Royal Canadian Mint). The face value of the coin is A$ 1 million. At the time of minting the value of the gold content was 53 times higher.

Another gold bullion issue by the Perth Mint, is the Lunar coin, showing each the current motive of the Chinese lunar calendar.

Australian Gold Nuggets are a known and secure form of gold to invest in.
